DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yamada (5,318,393). Yamada discloses a tap having a screw part including a bevel lead (3) having chamfers (7) provided from a cutting edge (5b) along ridgelines of a crest face of ridge (5) and a following flank (5a) (column 3, lines 5-14). Yamada discloses chamfers (7,8,21) of differing shape adjacent a crest face of ridges (5,6,20).

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japan (57-189735) (cited by applicant). 57-189735 discloses chamfers (8,9) adjacent crest face (4) in figures 5,6,7a and 7b.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamada (5,318,393) in view of Henderer et al. (7,147,413). Yamada does not disclose a hardened steel, coated tap with a concentricity tolerance. Henderer teaches (column

3, lines 30-35 and column 4, lines 55-60) that it is known to grind a metal carbide (column 3, lines 15-22) tap having a coating (column 4, lines 4-10) to a concentricity tolerance. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to grind the tap of Yamada as taught by Henderer to a concentricity specification in order to reduce runout during tapping.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
